Report Highlights:

On February 28, 2014, Mexico's Secretariat of Economy (SE) announced an amendment to term length of a previous authorization under which Mexican companies can import 300,000 metric tons (MT) of poultry (specifically, chicken) meat duty-free, via a tariff rate quota (TRQ) regime. The TRQ should not significantly affect U.S. exports. Mexican authorities have gone so far as to say the announcement is more about keeping domestic poultry prices in check and to allow imports as necessary.

General Information:

Previously, on May 15, 2013, Mexico's SE announced a modification to the General Import and Export Tax Law to allow the duty-free import of poultry meat, via a TRQ certificate. As a follow-up to this decree, on May 16, 2013 SE published an announcement which confirmed the amount of poultry meat to be imported under the TRQ. On February 28, 2014, SE announced an amendment which extends this quota to December 31, 2015. The harmonized tariff system (HTS) codes covered by this TRQ announcement are for fresh, chilled, or frozen chicken meat, cuts, and edible offal (see below).

FAS/Mexico Analysis: As previously reported, Mexico's imports of poultry meat from the United States is likely to continue unimpeded as, under NAFTA, U.S. poultry meat is exempt from this TRQ. It is not expected that U.S. exports (primarily mechanically separated poultry and chicken leg quarters) will face significant additional international competition in the Mexican market despite the ability of Brazil and others to take advantage of this TRQ. Up until November 2013, approximately 6 months of the initial TRQ announcement, Brazil was only able to export 124 metric tons (MT) of frozen chicken cuts and offal to Mexico, presumably all under this 300,000 MT TRQ whereas the United States exported 773,600 MT of all poultry and offal to Mexico during the period January to November 2013.

The only countries with which Mexico has currently negotiated a zoo-sanitary protocol for poultry meat and offal are: Argentina (dehydrated poultry meat), Brazil (raw and dehydrated poultry meat, only), Canada (poultry meat and offal subject to thermal treatment and/or processing), Chile (poultry meat and offal), and the United States (poultry meat and offal).

Consulting the publicly available list of establishments authorized to export both raw poultry meat and offal to Mexico (SICPA), the website lists 1286 U.S. establishments recognized by the Mexican Government as eligible to ship some form of poultry product to Mexico. Aside from the United States, there are 4 Argentinian poultry establishments, 5 Brazilian poultry establishments, 303 Canadian poultry establishments, and 8 Chilean poultry establishments with access to Mexico.

Disclaimer: This summary is based on a cursory review of the subject announcements and therefore should not, under any circumstances, be viewed as a definitive reading of the regulation in question, or of its implications for U.S. agricultural export trade interests. In the event of a discrepancy or discrepancies between this summary and the complete regulation or announcement as published in Spanish, the latter shall prevail.

This report summarizes the “Decree that Indicates the Modification of the Quota to Import, Under Tariff-Quota, Poultry Meat”

Article 1 indicates the extension of the date (originally from May 16, 2013 until December 31, 2013) from May 16, 2013 to December 31, 2015. The validity of the TRQ certificates issued after the publication of this announcement will be valid through December 31, 2015. The TRQ certificates issued before the date of the amendment publication will be valid through February 28, 2014.

The publication establishes the aggregate quota to import duty-free, fresh, chilled or frozen poultry meat in the following amounts:

HTS	DESCRIPTION	MT
0207.11.01	Meat and Edible Offal of Chickens. Not cut in pieces, Fresh or Chilled.	300,000
0207.12.01	Meat and Edible Offal of Chickens. Not cut in pieces, Frozen
0207.13.03	Chicken, Legs, Thighs Or Legs And Thighs In One Piece. Fresh or Chilled.
0207.13.99	Chicken, Other. Fresh or Chilled.
0207.14.04	Chicken, Legs, Thighs Or Legs And Thighs In One Piece. Frozen.
0207.14.99	Chicken, Other. Frozen.

SE indicates that 50 percent of the TRQ is to be assigned under the direct allocation mechanism using the “first come first serve” methodology. The amount allocated will be the lesser of:

- a. The solicited amount;
- b. The amount indicated in the commercial bill or airway bill; or,
- c. 20,000 MT; or,
- d. The remainder of the TRQ
