

As goods stack up at our ports, U.S. businesses are hurt.

The slowdowns and congestion at West Coast ports hurt everyone.

Those containers don't just mean the goods we buy, they're the goods our American businesses create and export. They represent American jobs and economic growth. A labor agreement is overdue — let's get our ports moving again.

